

THE LAW AND THE BALLOT.

While the newspapers are discussing the refusal of the Senate to pass a resolution to bring the ballots of Lyon county into the Senate, it is but justice to all who voted against the resolution to state the law in the case. Under the present law ballots must be sealed up in the box for two years, and only opened in case of a contest and by order of the Court.

A resolution calling on the Clerk to open the box would be illegal. Hence those who voted against the resolution were clearly within the law and upholding it. Now the Constitutional Convention is not dead yet by any means.

Let a bill be introduced amending the law so as to allow ballots to be brought before the Legislature, and then no member who wishes to deal fairly by the people can find the slightest reason for voting against the bill.

The APPEAL trusts that the Senators who desire to see the ballots of the people counted, will draft a bill at once and even if it does not pass, it will place on record those who do not desire fair play.

DODGING THE LICENSE.

The editor of the Enterprise is out flat-footed against licensing pugilistic encounters. No wonder, for whenever he gets riled he squares off and thumps his adversary on the nose, under the ear and elsewhere.

Mr. Campbell is one of the hardest hitters and cleverest sparsers in the State. About two years ago he thumped the Secretary of the Republican State Central Committee, until his friends didn't know him from Job's off ox. Years ago the writer saw him in Salt Lake knocking sheep's bells out of a man on the main street.

Every once in awhile he goes in and cleans some one up leaving his prize a total wreck and his ribs in a strained condition. Now he seems to want all the fun and pay no license and defraud the State out of the revenue.

If he paid $500 every time he demolished a man at fist cuffs he would have to mortgage the Enterprise to the State.

No wonder he opposes the pugilistic license bill.

Lessons for the Wealthy.

The case of the disjoined will of the late Governor Stevenson of this State adds another to the long list of object lessons set for the benefit of persons of wealth—the lesson to distribute their wealth as they wish to see it divided up while they are yet in the land of the living, otherwise it is very likely to be divided up among lawyers. The proof of this is that during 1890 over four thousand wills were contested in this country, and 60 per cent. of them were broken.—Enterprise.

Much of the present litigation might have been avoided had the will been opened in the presence of all of the beneficiaries. There should be a law providing that a sealed will should be opened in the presence of the Public Administrator or some regularly authorized officer of the law. By the time the Stevenson heirs get through there will be precious little left for either the widow or the children.

Mr. Chris. Zabriskie is in the city. He does a regular banking business in Candelaria. Mr. Zabriskie is the only banker in the State, that we know of, who puts in plain English on notes "payable in gold or silver coin." Nevada bankers who shout for silver all want obligations paid them in gold coin. We hope that the other bankers in this State will consider this proposition.

The Enterprise speaks of a man in Virginia City who went to the wall because he gave a series of champagne blowouts on a larger scale than income. This same condition of affairs seems just now to apply to the State of Nevada.
